THE NEW (OLD) GAME IN TOWN

Andy Mears Talks Vintage Combat

OK, let's face it, Slow Combat is gone. Fast Combat is all but dead with very few contests. It has been taken over by F2d in one form or another. There is, of course, full on F2d, F2d single airplane (kinda like using old Slow rules) then Fast F2d using F2d equipment, Fast scoring, and a modified muffler rule.

Don't get me wrong, I love this, using one plane, one set of lines, one fuel and set of equipment. It makes it easy to go to a contest. How many remember packing for the Nationals? Fast planes, F2d, 1/2A, Slow, and all the stuff to go with it....just the fuel was a nightmare, 10%, 25%, 40%, lines, props, and the list goes on!

When everyone is through at a contest we all sit around and talk about the "you remember when.....or you remember this pilot, yeah, he flew this model, or that special motor." Well, there is a new class of combat that is starting to grow, and I have to admit it is a lot of fun! As we all get older and some of us realize there is no way to hang onto a 120mph Fast Combat plane, Nostalgia Combat starts to grow in popularity. Old Fast planes, with older motors, limited to 75mph. Kits are being reproduced with the latest laser cut technology with great fit and better wood than in the old days.

I have found several on eBay by Walter Unman <http://www.builtrightflyright.com> Model+Airplanes+by+Dadretread is his eBay store. Let me just say this is not advertising for him, but great kits and well worth the price. Also, Barry Baxter has fantastic plans for most any model <http://www.controllineplans.com/> with great detail and easy to follow instructions. Motors range from Super Tigres, Fox, and even some Johnsons and with 10% fuel and a 8x8 prop they run great without blowing plugs.

If you want to see most of the early combat planes built and on display, go to Bob Mears Combat Museum https://www.facebook.com/bob.mears.10/photos_albums He has done a great job on the construction and stories that go with early Fast Combat planes. You can also go by and see them in person if you are ever in Lubbock, Texas.

With CA, 5-minute epoxy, and heat shrink film, you can build a model in a weekend. Yes, I have done it several times. And something else, it's fun. I was never a great builder. I had no patience and glue took forever to dry, not to mention using 100 straight pins. Mail order planes made it easy. I firmly believe that if mail order planes and equipment were not around, combat would be gone forever. There are a few that still build their F2d planes, but surely a minority.

Nostalgia Combat started out in Tucson (at least that's the first time I saw it) known as VooDoo Combat. A cool event, but let's face it, Voodoo's are a little hard to find. I have not seen one reproduced and they can go for good money at times. On the other hand, older kits, or reproduced kits are available and reasonable. Older combat planes are a side step to what we do everyday, it's built, covered and painted just like the "old days." I have built four different planes, a Sneeker, Voodoo, Demon, and Super Sneeker, and currently working on a Matador. Once you build one, you can't stop!

There are a few Vintage contests now, Tucson, Brodak, and a few others scheduled for 2016. They use round scoring, penalties for line wraps and mid-air, and limited cuts to keep your prized possession safe. It is more for the fun and camaraderie. You can walk through the pits and see a Sweet Sweep with a Johnson, Slingshot, Nemesis, Bosta, Sneeker, Demon, and of course VooDoo's. In most cases they will let any competitor fly one (or two).

I am not replacing our regular F2d contests by any means! There is nothing like a honking Fora on a good F2d ship, but I ain't ready to lay down and fly stunt either. So, sign off your Yuvenko site, start digging around for your long forgotten old stuff, find a kit that you used to fly, and get building! You may find out things you long forgot, like building is therapy for the mind, relaxing, and a real sense of accomplishment when you are done. More than just throwing a motor on and blistering up the airways.

This way, at the end of a contest, we don't have to remember the old days, we are once again living them. And let's face it, we are not getting any younger. And if you have to, Yuvenko can still build your lines.

Latex Pipette Bulbs on eBay

Heathrow Scientific makes these 2ml pipette bulbs HS20622B that may be used as a cheap substitute for a Binky pacifier (found at CVS Drugstores). These are lower pressure than a Binky but should be satisfactory if you're flying a Vintage Combat model at 75mph. A package of 72 bulbs is $18.81 plus $5.00 shipping. Just go to eBay and type in latex pipette bulbs and you should end up at the right spot. Beware, there are other vendors charging a lot more. If you've been successfully using a Binky or some other brand of pacifier be very cautious when changing over. Set the needle on the rich side, use fuel with plenty of oil, and just put in an ounce of fuel on that first test flight.

Making a Sport Goodyear wing....the easy way. Bill Bischoff

Perhaps one of the biggest hurdles involved in building a Sport Goodyear is carving the wing. Recently, I have found a way to clear this hurdle with a minimum of effort. It only applies to constant chord wings, such as found on the Buster, Bonzo, Zipper, Stardust, and a whole plethora of Cassutts.

The good folks at Brodak sell a replacement wing for their Flight Streak Trainer for $16.00. (It is listed in the paper catalog, but I could not find it online). The wing is one piece, 6" chord, about 37" span, and a bit over 3/8" thick. It has a pre-carved flat bottom airfoil, with a 1/8" thick trailing edge to accommodate the Streak Trainer's fixed flaps. It is the top wing in the photo.

I personally wanted a wing with 6 5/8" chord for my new BooRay. First, I cut the wing apart 2" from the leading edge, and added a 1/4" x 3/8" spruce spar. This increased the chord by 1/4". Then I added a 1/8" x 3/8" spruce trailing edge, which increased the chord to the desired 6 5/8". I also cut 1/4" off the leading edge, and replaced it with 1/4" x 1/4" spruce for strength and impact resistance. This is the middle wing in the photo.

Once this was done, the spruce leading and trailing edges were shaped, and the high point of the wing sanded to blend everything together. The bottom wing shows the finished airfoil.

If a narrower chord is needed, a section of balsa may be removed from the high point area of the wing. For example, cut the wing leading edge at 1 3/4", then cut 5/8" off the front edge of the back part of the wing. Add the 1/4" spar and 3/8" trailing edge, and you are back to a 6" chord. This would be appropriate on the Stardust, for example.

It will also be necessary to install some sort of hard point for mounting the bellcrank. I recommend the tapered maple spar/bellcrank mount as featured on the Margaret June plans. This may be installed after the wing is assembled, but will be easier to fit and install before gluing the wing together.

Hopefully, this will be just what some of you need to start building your own Sportsman Goodyear racer.

What have bridges to do with Combat?

Rich at the Golden Gate Bridge, San Francisco, USA, 1978.

Rich Lopez

is a 63 year old Combat flyer who has been flying combat models since 1964. He is a resident of Los Angeles, USA, and many of you have for sure met him at both Euro- and World Champs as well as World Cup Competitions. At the Euro Champs in 2003 he served as Swedish F2D Mechanic and for next year he is the 2nd reserve in the US F2D Team. This year he attended the full Dreiländer Pokal in Combat and when he was in Vänersborg (between the Swedish and Danish competitions) he couldn't resist having a look at the bridge.

You might think he is working as a bridge constructor, but no, he is now retired from his job as a Headmaster of a school. His two children (son and daughter) does not fly combat, nor does his wife.

There were quite a lot of Combat activity in San Francisco in the '70's and reason these photos was send to Sweden at that time was that one of the guys flying Combat in their group was a Swede!

So what have Bridges to do with Combat? Well, nothing as far as LINA knows.....

Rich at the Dalbo Bridge, Vänersborg, Sweden, 2011.

Firefly had a look similar to European models at the time.

Samurai was a balsa model with a long tail.

Note the exhaust pipe mount. You might think it burned the wing but it worked which allowed rear exhaust port engines to be used.

F2D Combat at World Air Games in Dubai 2015

It started well over a year ago with a CIAM realisation that F2 classes in general and Combat in particular are the categories for Spectators. That is why Combat was chosen as one of the four Aeromodelling classes to be run at WAG. As every class can't be run at every WAG there have to be a selection. This time, apart from F2D CL Combat, F3T RC Pylon Racing, F3N RC Helicopter Freestyle and F3P RC Indoor Aerobatic was chosen. The planning included meetings in Dubai where the most intense part for all Event Directors was to make a proper Time Schedule as many classes were going to be run at the same time, especially at the SkyDive Palm Area. F2D and F3T were to be run at the same days but as we shared the Grass field it couldn't be run at the same time. In addition all Combat Officials plus a couple of F2D Mechanics served as F3T Officials as they lacked qualified people.

For F2D a selection process was decided by CIAM where the National Champ of 2014 from 16 countries was to be invited. These rules also included that if a pilot turned the offer down the invitation would go to the next country on the reserve list. The countries invited were USA, CAN, MEX, AUS, NZL, ESP, MDA, LTU, SWE, DEN, FIN, EST, RUS, UKR, GBR and AUT. With two pilots saying no (AUS and GBR) LAT and BLR was invited. All countries apart from Russia accepted the selection rules as they wanted to replace the invited pilot with their own choice. This was turned down by FAI and then Russia chose to withdraw even the invited pilot. So ITA was invited as the third reserve. Each pilot could bring one mechanic and all of these 16+16 invited persons had to agree to help pitting for the others (giving everyone two mechanics in each heat. Looking back this worked very well as all of them have known each other for years....)

F2D combat was going to be run over four days with the first day set aside for training. When in Dubai all crews had both food and lodging for free (mostly 4 and 5 star Hotels). The Crown Prince of Dubai had in addition invited every participant to stay in Dubai the complete 14 day WAG period free of charge. Both the food and the lodging were excellent with huge Buffés served for Lunch/Dinner.

Before all training there was a meeting with pilots, mechanics and officials. The main issue were safety! With many classes having activity at the same time safety had to be put first. Although it was a contest it was also a way of promoting Combat and shows it to many people that haven't seen it.

In the evening of our training day there was an Opening Ceremony at SkyDive Palm. A huge stage with seats for a lot of spectators was built and it turned out to be one of the most awesome openings I ever been to.

Apart from people acting on the stage and hanging in lines in the air they also had a big TV screen. What a show! And it ended with a Firework that must have costed a fortune. The Royal Family was also there and I hope they enjoyed it too. As they paid for most of it.....

Round 1 started on Sunday 6th of December with sunny weather (over 30 degrees Celsius) and hardly any wind. It saw Andrey Nadein USA get a 1-1 in cuts to Vitali Snitko BLR but Andrey won due to more air time. Another 1-1 was when Alexander Prokofievs LAT won over Johan Larsson SWE but being only 10 seconds ahead. It was clearer for Pat MacKenzie who had 2-1 against James Palmer NZL. The match of the round was supposed to be that between Stanislav Chorny UKR and Igor Dementiev MDA. But it turned out to be nothing to write home about. With 1-1 and air times around 1.30 Chorny won.

After lunch it was time for Round 2. Pat MacKenzie got his first loss when he flew Alexander Prokofievs. 2-1 to Alex. Chorny also collected his first loss when Jussi Forss FIN won on more air time. 1-1 in cuts. Andrey Nadein also got his first loss when Arnulfo Delgado MEX won by 1-0. Last by not least we had a heat between two former Champs, both with one loss from R1. Now Audrius Rastenis LTU scored 2-1 against Igor Dementiev. So it was goodbye for Igor as well as for three others.

During the contest days we had company by the Fire Brigade and the Police. Apart from their "normal" vehicles they also came with some other cars..... Where else than in Dubai could this be seen?

On Monday the temperature had gone down to around 20 degrees and the wind increased to somewhere between 6 and 8 m/s. This meant that Pylon Racing and Combat were the only classes flown. Round 3 started with a 2-1 win for Alex Prokofievs against Raul Mateo ESP. After the next heat Chorny could pack his models as he lost to Andrey Nadein. 2-1 in cuts to Andrey and also more air time. Pat MacKenzie joined Chorny as he lost to Rudi Königshofer AUT. Rudi got 2-1 and more air time. This was the only round flown on Monday.

On Tuesday the wind increased a bit and once again Pylon Racing and Combat were the only classes flown apart from some flights with Rotorcraft. That is small Helicopters with a pilot and a helper. The helper holds a 10 metre long rope with a sack attached to it the goal being to put the sack into water barrels along the flying course. They got points for time and barrel hits! Very exciting.....

The SkyDive Palm arena seen from the 52nd floor Sky Bar at Marriot Hotel. The pond in the middle of the Grass Field is used for one of the Parachuting Classes. As you can see the tarmac runway goes out into the sea. When they started to build this site it was only water so they used a lot of stones.

In round 4 Andrey Nadein lost to Alex Prokofievs as he got a Yellow Card for attacking Alex model taking it out of the air. But Andrey wasn't alone in leaving the scene. Audrius Rastenis lost to Rudi Königshofer. 2-1 to Rudi. Dmitri Varfolomejev lost to Raul Mateo. 2-1 to Raul. Arnulfo Delgado lost to Jussi Forss. 1-0 to Jussi. Vitali Snitko was the bye and saved his flight until the next round where he lost to Rudi Königshofer. Vitali had 2-0 in cuts but lost with 16 points because of his poor air time.

With only 4 pilots left the temperature raised. Well, not in the air as it kept steady at around 20. Alex was the only one without losses and thereby had an advantage on the others. It started with Raul Mateo losing to Jussi Forss. 3-0 to Jussi. As Alex was the bye and without losses we now had the podium pilots and just had to determine the order. As Alex won over Rudi (1-2 in cuts but better air time) he now had to fly Jussi one or two times. Just to keep the excitement Jussi took a clear victory over Alex in the first match. Equal time but 3-1 to Jussi.

The next heat was the real final with both pilots having one loss. The winner would become the World Air Games Champion and the loser would be the runner-up. Rudi had already secured the third place. As it so often happens the final was not the best flight of the day. Both pilots scored one cut but Alex won because of one more minute in the air.

Apart from cheering for our three podium pilots thoughts should go to all 16 pilots including their mechanics. Actually any one of them could have won. That is how close it was and how good they were. It was a great combat show and many people were very impressed with what they had seen.

Team Latvia, Vasilij Prokofievs, Mark Rudner and Alexander Prokofievs.

Team Finland. Johan Larsson, Jussi Forss and Jari Valo.

All the Officials; FAI Jury, F2D Judges and Scorers.

All three podium pilots with their mechanics.

For those of you that want to read more about WAG, see photos, videos and articles there are two good sources at www.wagdubai.ae and www.fai.org. You also find links to Facebook, Twitter and Flickr. Attending WAG with F2D was probably a once in a lifetime experience for all of us that went there and we must be grateful that we got the opportunity now when it was held in Dubai. Not many organisers can put up such a budget and such an impressive event. And as Aeromodelling Classes are rotating at WAG it will probably take many years before Combat is on the list again.

Anyone remember Rotterdam 1976? US version

Back in the Stone Ages, i.e. the Roaring Seventies F2D Combat got World Champs status 1978. So when the Netherlands were hosting the World Champs in 1976 they decided to run an unofficial World Champs in F2D the weekend before the "real" Champs in Utrecht. It was easy for them as they have had their "Dutch Combat International" for a couple of years.

This year they closed the Football Ground Alexandria 66 in Rotterdam as the venue. Pilots from most of the Western Europe countries came and also a contingent of six pilots from the USA in the end forming an entry list of around 100 pilots from 12 countries. GBR contributed with 22 pilots.

Everyone camped at the site creating a very nice weekend with both flying and social activities. The Football Club's restaurant provided the Saturday evening meal included in the entry fee and I remember it was so salt so you had to buy several beers to get it down. The club people were not stupid....

Swedish pilot Lars Karlsson discussing model constructions with Paul Smith.

Charlie Johnson and Paul Smith must have gone to Kindergarten as child as they were wise enough to wear name signs....

Can't remember if this was Reese or Harris.... For some reason I only have photos of 5 of the 6 american pilots.

Mike Kresan ready to launch....

At that time I knew a Dutch girl, Gerda, and she together with her twin sister joined us at the contest. Here with myself and Vernon Hunt (Yes, we looked much younger in those days!). Having these girls with us made some other pilots behave as flies that just discovered a dead cow.

It was a warm and dry summer so the surface was hard and tough for crashing models. As they ran the contest in two circles and the old draw system with a Losers Round and straight knock-out was used it was possible to have this many competitors over just a two day contest. In the end two British Flyers met in the final, Richard Wilkens and John Berry with John winning by 431-289. Actually 5 of the top 8 came from GBR.

Some of the American pilots I remember quite well as we spent a lot of time together (look at the photos to understand why...). Charlie Johnson, Paul Smith, Mike Kresan, Hage Benneck, ? Harris and ? Reese was the ones that came. After this contest I only saw Charlie and Paul again with all the others disappearing into some dark corner. Maybe some of SCAR's readers have any info to share?

Even if it was before the World Cup started I remember that we were out in Europe every summer taking part in these contests. It is a nice memory when sitting in the Rocking Chair in front of the Fireplace.....

/Ingemar Larsson

Gerda with Mike Kresan and (I think) Hage Benneck in the background. Looking in my old Address Book Mike lived in Silver Springs MD, while Hage was from Glastonbury CT. Both are wearing SMAKA T-shirts. When we learned about MACA we decided to start something similar in Sweden. So it was Swedish MACA = SMAKA. We ran it for a couple of years and published a Newsletter like SCAR.

Round 4 (32 pilots)

Johnson USA	276 W
Olijve NED	194 L

Reese USA	317 W
Huss SWE	314 L

Round 5 (16 pilots)

Johnson USA	220 L
Hunt GBR	340 W

Reese USA	25 L
Berry GBR	219 W

Mr Johnson ended up as best American at place 11 and Mr Reese got place 15.

Gerda again....and guess who?

Did we really had time for flying or were we talking all the time?
